Dedication

During the years of her existence Guilford College has been sustained in her progress by the unselfish contributions of countless individuals. None of these persons has made a more dedicated, sacrificial contribution than Daryl Kent. His untiring devotion and his willingness to undertake any task given him have gained for him the admiration of all who know him. The spiritual and intellectual development of his students has always been of primary concern to him. In appreciation of his years of service and his kindly Christian guidance, we deem it a distinct pleasure to dedicate the 1958 edition of the Quaker to E. Daryl Kent.

Alma Mater

Kindly light our fathers kindled,
'Midst primeval oak and pine,
Let thy radiance, truth revealing,
Now upon our spirits shine.

Sacred memories, through the archways
Of the swiftly passing years,
Still undimmed, dear Alma Mater,
Strengthen us, dispel our fears,

So, our hearts and voices joining,
Echo Guilford's ancient fame,
Hallowed be thine each endeavor,
Hallowed be fair Guilford's name.

Religious Education Week

Clearing up last minute details for Religious Education Week are Bob Matthews, Becky Cloninger, Paul McDonald, Robin Heritage, John Juchter, Barbara Lineberger, Betty Lou McFarland, Chairman Frankie Brown, Margaret Haworth, Bob Stanger, and Jo Cook.

The eight students selected from the Junior Class to marshal for Commencement, the Ward Lecture, and other campus activities are, first row, left to right: Virginia Cox, Betty Jean Steel, Jo Ann Hundley and Clara Montgomery. Second row: Dave Hardin, Danny Carr, Chester Haworth, and Jake Caviness.

College Marshals

Honor Board

The Honor Board, composed of student representatives chosen by the student body, is charged with the administration of the honor system as it applies to academic work. This year's members are, first row: Mrs. Deagon, alternate advisor; Roger Redman, Chairman; Jo Ann Hundley and Virginia Cox. Second row: Dave Hardin, Bob Stanger, and Dr. Feagins, Advisor.

Student Affairs Board

The Student Affairs Board, headed this year by Jimmy Askins, serves as the coordinating group for all campus organizations. Major emphasis was placed on the campus Chest Drive, college elections, adoption and administration of the Student Activities Fee Budget, and the control of the point system. Through the general oversight of all campus activities, the Board acted to create a more functional extra-curricular program.

"Show me the leader and I will know his men; show me the men and I will know their leader." In order that a student government may operate smoothly and serve both students and administration effectively, it is necessary to have this kind of leadership demonstrated by Woody Finley, President, and Bob Johnson, Vice-President. Representatives from each dorm ably assisted these leaders in the duties and activities carried on by the M.S.G. "Winter Wonderland", the Christmas talent show, and the annual Men's May Day added to the lighter side of our college life this year.

Men's Student Government

John Slopey. Third row: Tom O'Brian, Eugene White, Harold Burrows, Bruce Stewart, Charles Chase, Steve Rundo.

The 1957-58 W.S.G. council has as its primary aim to be more than a punishing body. Thus, in addition to its regular disciplinary duties, they sponsored several worthy projects. As a result of suggestions from the women students, the council came out in the fall with a revised rule book, a new card signout system, and turned in to the business office a list of needed dormitory improvements. At Homecoming they coordinated the women's dorm decorations and floats. Following one of the home football games, they sponsored an informal dance in the Union. In cooperation with the S.C.A., the W.S.G. gave a Christmas party for needy children. As their term of office ended, the council has as their last project a fashion show in cooperation with Mentaldo's.

The W.S.G. President was Rachel Richardson who very ably led the women students in all their activities.

Women's Student Government

and Marty Allen. Second row: Ruth Ann Mertz, Barbara Davis, Judy Meyers, Carol McBane, Ruth Ann Hammond, Margie Harworth, and Mary Ruth Shropshire.

The big man on the 1958 Quaker staff is David Griffin.

Anne Cox, the Business Manager, is working on prospective advertisers.

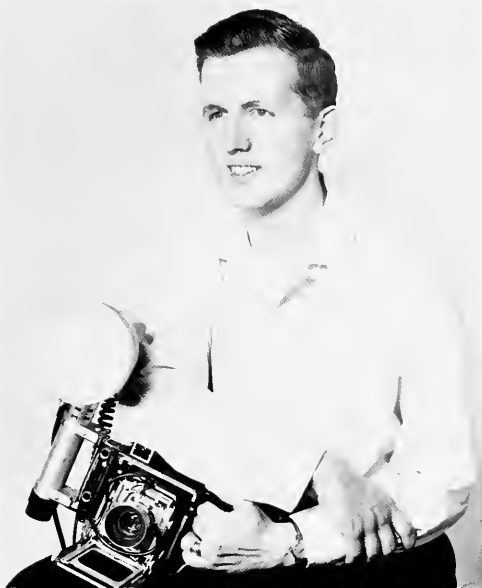

The Quaker

Mary Kay Hylton, Managing Editor, is going through a previous annual to get ideas.

Mr. David Parsons, the faculty advisor, gave the staff much valuable advice and assistance.

Many hours of hard work and deep thought went into the Quaker this year as the staff endeavored to give the students a new and more appealing yearbook.

Without the help of Anne Cox who has done a remarkable job as Business Manager, our yearbook would never have stood up under the strains of the "business recession." Many thanks to Ann Harper, Janet Smith, and Bobbie Gray who worked with copy, statistics, classes, incidentals, Woody Finley and Sid Hart were responsible for the athletic section which is the best ever. If it hadn't been for A. T. Barbee and Bob Johnson, we couldn't have published this book. Their pictures have proved invaluable. However, if one name were to stand out above all the rest it would be that of Virginia Cox. Without her steady guiding hand, her reminder of things I had to do, her efficiency of getting accomplished on time what had to be done, and her wonderful spirit and moral support, I could not have edited this book.

In addition there are many others whose assistance proved invaluable—Mr. Charles Hunter and Hunter Publishing Company, Mr. David Parsons, Mr. Dave Morrah, Mr. Dave Nicholson, Dr. Marjorie Williams, and Lee Jacobson.

Dave

Nicole Schreiner, Ann Harper, Bobbie Gray, Sid Hart and Woody Finley take a break from their varied jobs.

The Guilfordian

The avocation of gathering the news of Guilford College was once again entrusted to the Guilfordian staff under the leadership of Editor Doug Kerr. He and his staff worked many long and hard hours to produce a unique and accurate paper for the student body. The Guilfordian provided a permanent record of school events, while supplying enjoyment, entertainment, and information. Dr. Deagon and Mr. Morrah were faculty advisors.

Editor Doug Kerr seems amused that the deadline is quickly creeping up on him.

Managing Editor Carolyn Liverman is happy that she has met her deadline.

Alvin Jaffee, Associate Editor, seems faced with the problem of how to end his article.

Sid Hart, Sports Editor, double checks his column before it goes to press.

Another indispensable staff member is Photographer A. T. Barbee.

The Guilfordian could never have gone to press without the invaluable assistance of its staff members and reporters. Left to right: they are Clara Montgomery, Jeanette Adler, Miriam Almoguer, and Libby King. Second row: Woody Finley, Louise Bunker, Lillian Burrow, Margaret Haworth, and Robin Heritage.

A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Carl C. Baumbach, was again a very popular organization because of its ability and willingness to give good choral programs. The tour to Yankee land was a highlight in their activities. President Virgil Winslow and Business Manager Clara Atkinson led the choir of some 70 members.

Mr. Carl C. Baumbach has been the able director of the choir since 1950, preparing them for concerts, tours, and the Messiah.

"The Alchemist," presented in the fall by the Revelers Club, was enjoyed by both students and faculty. Members of the cast pictured here are Don Lanning, John Hewlett, Chris Sutor, Jeanette Adler, Craven Mackie, Bill Campbell.

Revelers Club

Two other scenes from the play portray the exceptional talent in the club, head by President Eileen Murray.

Fine Arts Club

The Fine Arts Club is an organization whose purpose is to provide an opportunity for public performance for talented students through club sponsorship of musical programs, art exhibits, and similar events. This organization strives to create interest in the arts at Guilford College by sponsoring programs and recitals outside of the club for the interest and enjoyment of any of the general public who may wish to attend. Any student or faculty member of Guilford College interested in participating in the activities of the Fine Arts Club may become a member.

International Relations Club

Carolina, Calcutta, Finland and Philadelphia represented the officer list of the I.R.C. Christmas International dinner was a success which 80 attended Donald Grand from England spoke The foreign student chapel programs will be remembered for the variety and diversity of talent among the foreign students United Nations Week was a busy one for members The I.R.C. an organization for the benefit of the students in broadening their outlook toward problems of the world and ways of other countries.

Social Committee

This year the social committee has improved the social life of the campus. Their work with the Homecoming Dance and the Valentine Dance made these events memorable. And then there were the informal dances in the Student Union on Saturday nights, especially when the Combo from the "Hill" rocked 'n rolled. Hats off to a fine group and thanks for the fun!

Under the leadership of Joyce Hannaum the Social Committee sponsored many activities for the students.

Spanish Club

Quaker Football

With a fine crop of freshmen, and a nucleus of returning veterans, the Quaker coaching staff of Herb Appenzeller, Stuart Maynard, and Bob Shoaf looked toward the 1957 campaign with a feeling of optimism . . . several of the Frosh made up the starting line-up, with all three quarterbacks being first year men . . . after a month of hard work the Quakers opened their season against their traditional rivals, the Christians of Elon College . . . after losing to the power-laden Varney-men, the Quakers looked forward to the Bridgewater Eagles . . . but somebody up there did not like the Quakers, and the Eagles came off with the win in a real heartbreaker . . . then came Homecoming against Hampden-Sydney, and the Quakers were dealt a third defeat in a close game . . . the fourth game on the schedule found the Quakers invading the land of the powerful Lenior Rhyme Bears, and the result was almost inevitable

. . . after an open date the Quakers went to Newberry in a weakened state, and were handed another loss . . . then came Appalachian, and the "experts" predicted another Quaker defeat, but the Gray and Red did not believe the "experts" and completely outplayed the Apps for the Quakers' initial win of the season . . . the seventh game of the campaign found the Catawba Indians the foe, and in a mixed-up affair, the Quakers came out second best . . . and then the finale of the season, Western Carolina . . . again the Rain God appeared, and the game finished in a deadlock with the Quakers outplaying their guests . . . with the playing of the WCC contest, the 1957 edition of Quaker football was history, and plans were being made for the 1958 campaign . . . the '57 edition had a 1-6-1 record, but barring a couple of games, the outcome could have been greatly improved.

One of the finest linemen to come to Guilford, Ralph Nelson, was picked on the first string All-Conference team at the conclusion of this season's North State Gridiron campaign... a 5-10, 205 pound guard, "Goot" played three seasons as a first string guard for the Quakers, and was a stand-out in every tilt... he cracked the first eleven his sophomore year in a line-up full of seniors... a fierce competitor, "Goot" repeatedly was able to open holes for the backs, and generally made life miserable for opposing ball carriers... he closed out a fine career at Guilford this year with a brilliant performance against the Catamounts of Western Carolina in the Quaker's last game.

Jim Elks is halted after a short gain in the homecoming game against Hampden-Sydney Tigers.

With experience, added height, and talented freshmen, Coach Bob Shoaf looked forward to the 1957-58 cage season as a way of improving his record as a rookie college coach the previous year. Shoaf still had Don Hemrick, Bob Henderson, Roger Roan, Bill Roddy, Jim Burgess, Bob Young, Tommy Dillon, and Vince Breitenberger to go with yearlings such as Ted Tilghman, Gary Cassell, Jim Lancaster, Jack Holley, and Dale Myers. The Quakers started the season against East Carolina, and finally came out with a win via the forfeit route. After a win over Apprentice Navy, the Quakers were dealt what was actually their first loss at the hands of the High Point Panthers. Then, until it met the High Point team again, Guilford ran up a 3-2 record. An invasion of the Guilford campus by the Panthers resulted in the celebrated overtime victory, and for all concerned, the big game of the season. Following a loss to Appalachian, Guilford emerged victorious over Pfeiffer, and then the bottom seemed to fall out for the Quakers. Up until its second meeting with the Dupont cagers, Guilford possessed a commendable 7-4 record. The remaining ten games found the team in a decided tailspin. From a good position for a slot in the post-season tournament, the Quakers were knocked down by Elon and kayoed by Western Carolina in the final two games of the season. They ended up in ninth place with a 3-12 slate in North State action, and a 7-14 overall record. The season was a relatively successful one, and one that could have been better had more of the breaks come in Guilford's favor.

The highlight of the basketball season came in the ninth game of the campaign. High Point, riding high in the conference standings, was stunned in a 76-74 overtime loss at the hands of the Quakers. Sparked by the shooting of Don Hemrick and Roger Roan, the Quakers, fought the Danny Sewell-led Panthers to a tie at the end of the regulation game. With the score tied in the overtime period that followed, Guilford gained possession of the ball with only seconds remaining on the clock. Bob Henderson and Hemrick brought the ball down the court. Henderson passed off to Hemrick, and Don dribbled down the right side of the court. Bill Roddy moved over to set up a screen, along with Henderson. With four seconds remaining, Hemrick dribbled to the right hand corner, jumped, and arched the ball toward the two points that were to mark the biggest upset in the 1957-1958 season of the North State cage loop. The win brought new life to the Guilford campus and served to warn the rest of the conference that Guilford could be a tough team. Not only was this an important game, but it also proved to be a high point in the careers of the players and coaches.

Don Hemrick, the 5-10 guard, finished his final year as a Quaker with honors that have been past due. The senior was named to the ten-man all North State cage team, and for his performance in the victory over High Point, was named Athlete of the Week in the Greensboro Daily News. The 1957-58 season was a fitting climax to the career of one of Guilford's finest players and basketball captain.

Bespectored Bob Young starts up in an attempt to get past the outstretched arms of a DuPont player to score two points for the Quakers. Roger Roan (32) is coming in for a possible rebound and a chance for a two pointer if Young misses.

COACH MAYNARD

In spite of the weather, Coach Maynard finally got his team ready for the 1958 campaign. The only big problem was the outfield and by the opening game, Jim Stutts, Billy West, and Bobby Hodges had won the starting assignments. The infield was anchored by a pair of veterans, Bill Roddy at first and Joe Pegram at third. Bob Allred was back to take over the catching assignment. All-Conference Snooky Benedetto led the moundcorps consisting of Tom O'Briant, Jim Simpson, Russel Gray, Danny Carr, and Billy West. The all-important double-play combination was handled by a pair of rookies, Brodie

Baker and Jackie Williams. Tommy Dillon, Zack Bell, Jack Crenshaw, and Larry Younts were around to fill in where the starters left off in the outfield. Bob Smith, Tom Whiteley, and Sid Teachey were reserves in the infield. Replacing Allred behind the plate were Claude Doyle and Stutts. Coach Maynard carried his team into South Carolina to sharpen up the players for competition in the North State Conference. To come was the grind of 13 conference tilts. The Quakers held an over-all record of nine wins and ten losses last year, and with material at hand, the record should have gone over the .500 during this season.

Tennis

The 1958 season of the tennis team was one of the best ever at Guilford. With 14 matches on the schedule, Coach Shoaf had a strong team composed of Frank Draper, Jordan Washburn, Jimmy Askins, Craven Mackie, Macon Nixon, and Long Vu. (listed in order of their position on the team). For the two previous years, Washburn and Bob Atlas had teamed together to cop the doubles championship for the Quakers. This year Jordan teamed with Jimmy Askins in an attempt to keep the crown at Guilford. Smooth-styled Frank Draper developed into a competent and well-rounded No. 1 man. The racketeers played their hardest matches early in the season, going on to outclass their North State Conference foes in most of their matches.

Jimmy Askins—member of the tennis team all four years at Guilford.

Golf

Pat Brady—Coach

After Pat Brady posted a record shattering 140 to lead the Quaker golf team to an easy win of the North State championship on the links, Brady was back to coach another strong team. This year Branch Crawford was the top man on the team that played 10 matches. Others on the team were Gordon Brewer, Paul McNeill, Bob Byrum, Tony Shafer, and Jim Anderson. Brady's record was not broken, but the team, at the first of the season, appeared ready to take the championship for another year.

Track

Led by the brilliant Dick Whiteside, the thin clads, coached by Herb Appenzeller, enjoyed a successful season. Running the one and the two mile races, Whiteside completely outclassed all the distance men he competed against. Other stalwarts on the team were Dave Hardin, Harold James, Jim Webb, and Bob Henderson. Doug Kerr was the leader in the weight events. It was still the case of a strong team in the running events, and a weak one in the weights. Nonetheless, the Quakers still finished high in the post-season conference meet.

Warming up are four standouts on the team—Rosier, Webb, Whiteside, and Henderson.

Go, Quakers, Go! Give 'em!

Cheerleaders

This year's cheerleaders are Wilma Lou Snipes, Jo Ann Hundley, Kaye Burton, Head Cheerleader Claudette Belton, Coreen

Case, Margaret Beamon, and Gertie Murrow.

Men's Athletic Association

Officers of the 1957-58 Men's Athletic Association are Joe Pegram Vice-President, Don Hemrick, President, Charles Atkinson, Secretary-Treasurer.

Monogram Club

Women's Athletic Association

The purpose of the W.A.A. is to bring together the girls of Guilford College in mutual enjoyment of sports and activities. The W.A.A. sponsors the May Day Festivities and intramural competition. Also sponsored by this organization are Intra-Collegiate Play Days, council and student banquets and a Freshman Week picnic for all women students.

Ann Harper, Mitiam Albaguer, Margie Haworth, Trudie Giroux, and Joan Kellis.
